

On a path to Rethink Teaching

Agricultural Age
Farmers

Industrial Age
Factory Workers

"Chalk & Talk"
Style of Education

18 Century Classroom

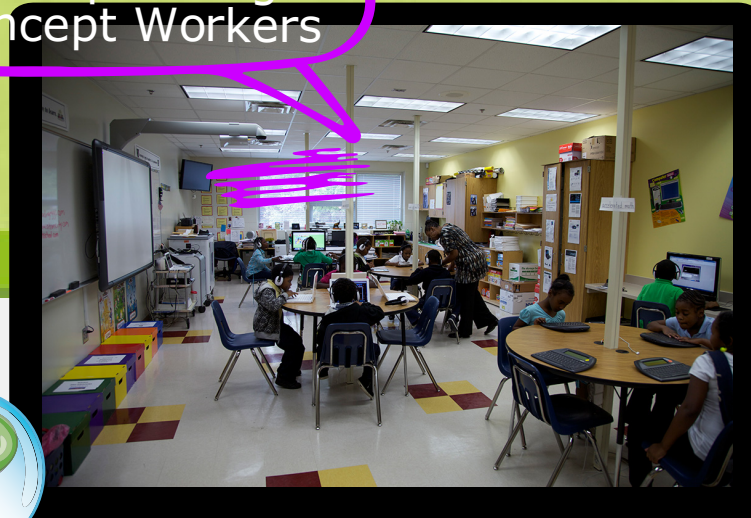

Information Age
Knowledge Workers

19th Century Classroom

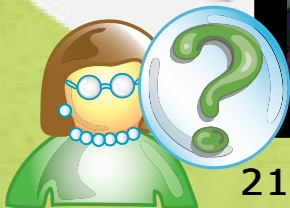

20th Century Classroom

Conceptual Age
Concept Workers

21st Century Classroom

"The leading economies now require a new skill set in the Conceptual Age/Imagination Age. Moving forward, the most valued skill will be creativity"

We have entered a new age.
78% of teens have a cell phone.
93% of teens have a computer.
Any fact, theory, or rule we are teaching them, they already have access to.
Our classrooms have drastically changed over the years.
So why hasn't our teaching?